

Jacqueline Hamilton-Lavery, C.B.L.T., Dip. Teach., B. Ed., M. Ed.

Jacqueline began her work in the field of Botanic Illustration in 2003 after graduating at the advanced level from The Margaret Saul School of Botanic Art.

Prior to this, she lectured in the area of Arts at the Queensland University of Technology (QUT) where she supervised Research Honours and Masters students.

A member of The Botanical Art Society of Australia Inc. and a founding member of the Botanical Artists' Society of Queensland Inc., she exhibits twice a year with BASQ, as well as at Queensland galleries and individual commissions.

Her work can also be found in the Brisbane Botanics, the Newsletter of the Volunteer Guides. With her dual background of art and science, Jacqueline's focus is the symbiotic relationship between the two as found in the traditional forms of botanic art.
